1) Editor's Greeting:

Welcome to our 10th issue of our free monthly email newsletter for Computer Education, Training, & Tutorial Resources. We are a non-profit web site and our mission is the training of those less fortunate who are seeking to become computer literate, both technically and from a user's perspective.

If you have any suggestions, ideas, or feedback about this newsletter, feel free to email us at mailto:scott\_turton@intelinfo.com. We appreciate your feedback. Also, please send this to your friends and colleagues, if you think they would like it. It contains highly valuable information for anyone who is an I.T. professional or desiring to become one.

In this issue we describe and link to a total of 65 computer and IT education and learning web sites. By means of this email newsletter, you have knowledge of and access to these sites before our web site visitors do.

News:

- This issue has plenty of Free IT Book Sites that are very interesting, be sure to check them out.

- Here is a new free subscription service for computer and technology newsletters: http://www.intelinfo.com/links/free\_it\_newsletters.html

We are asking everyone to please sign-up for one of these free newsletters. Our web site receives 30 cents for everyone who does - these funds enable us to further help you and everyone else find the best free computer training and tutorials on the web today.

You can also help support our IT training mission by visiting any of our sponsors in this newsletter or on our site at <http://www.intelinfo.com>. Good luck with your computer studies and learning.

Happy Computing,

9) Frequently Asked Questions about Technical Training:

Each month Scott Turton will answer one of the frequently asked questions we receive about computer and technical training and career development. They will be archived on a separate FAQ page on our website after several months.

June 2001 FAQ: Where are the best free A+ Training & Tutorial Resources on the Web?

Answer:

There are many free learning and training resources on the web for studying and preparing for your A+ Certification exam. This article shows you where some of the best ones are.

Start with the online courses here, they are some of the best beginning computer training on the web:

First go to Life Long Learning on the WWW:

<http://goforit.unk.edu/cscourse.htm>

and review and study these courses:

- Hardware Introduction I
- Hardware Introduction II
- Internet and WWW
- Networks: An Introduction
- Operating Systems
- Windows 95
- Windows 2000 Server

Then, go to Learnthat.com at this url:

<http://www.learnthat.com/courses/computer/>

and study these training tutorials online:

- Basic Windows Training and Tutorials
- A+ Certification Core Tutorial
- A+ Certification DOS/Windows

Check out this free online book:

'A+ Certification: How to Pass Your Exams':

<http://www.windowstlibrary.com/Documents/Book.cfm?DocumentID=175>

- This free book walks you through all the skills tested in the A+ Certification exam - both the Core exam and the DOS/Windows exam.

To get the latest news and updates on the A+ Certification Exam you should check out CompTIA's A+ page. This is the organization responsible for the exam and its contents. It has recently been updated and you need to know what has been added and changed. Here's the url:

<http://www.comptia.org/certification/aplus/index.htm>

If you want to pay for A+ training, here is their search page for finding training centers:

<http://www.comptia.org/search.htm>

The following are more of the best web resources that offer you free study materials, guides and notes:

CompTIA certification study guides and cramsessions:

Financial Freedom Alert!  FREE Step-by-step program to start
Earning real $$$$ now!

Try E-commerce
it's the way of the future

A banner advertisement for a financial freedom program. It features a blue header with the text "Financial Freedom Alert!". Below the header, there is a yellow warning triangle icon, a radio button, and the text "FREE Step-by-step program to start". A dropdown menu shows "Earning real $$$$ now!". To the right is an "OK" button. The background of the banner shows a city skyline at night.
